

TAUP proposal 10/27/16

Preamble (as it applies to adjuncts)

Academic Freedom as described in the Preamble shall apply to adjunct faculty only in performance of their assigned duties at Temple.

When speaking and writing outside the University, they shall be careful to avoid attributing their views as those of Temple, unless they are expressly authorized in writing by the University to do so.

Side letter

The parties disagree with respect to the grievability and arbitrability of the statement on academic freedom in the Preamble.
